

Wine Spectator

TORLESSE

Pinot Noir Canterbury 2006

Bright and intense, with very good concentration to tangy wild berry, red plum and cranberry flavors. Asian spice, gravel and cedar nuances add interest, with dried herbs and streamlined tannins focusing the finish. Drink now through 2010. 1,500 cases made. --DS (Web Only)

WineSpectator.com

Wine Spectator

TORLESSE

Pinot Noir Canterbury 2006

Bright and intense, with very good concentration to tangy wild berry, red plum and cranberry flavors. Asian spice, gravel and cedar nuances add interest, with dried herbs and streamlined tannins focusing the finish. Drink now through 2010. 1,500 cases made. --DS (Web Only)

WineSpectator.com

Wine Spectator

TORLESSE

Pinot Noir Canterbury 2006

Bright and intense, with very good concentration to tangy wild berry, red plum and cranberry flavors. Asian spice, gravel and cedar nuances add interest, with dried herbs and streamlined tannins focusing the finish. Drink now through 2010. 1,500 cases made. --DS (Web Only)

WineSpectator.com